

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of providing lodging and vehicle rentals for travelers is carried out by providing both the lodging and the vehicle rentals at a same location through a single vendor. A common shuttle is provided to carry travelers from a point of arrival to the lodging location in a single trip. The lodging location includes a room to be rented and a parking space associated with the room, with a rental vehicle parked in the parking space. Access to the room may be gained by presenting a payment card to a reader in or adjacent to a door of the room, while access to the vehicle may be acquired through keys left in the room.
